SMU'S FIRST SOCCER TEAM - 1915

An excerpt from "The Beginning of Athletics at SMU" by Ray Morrison, who not only coached the football team but also the soccer team.

"There were a number of cotton men from England in Dallas and they had two soccer teams in Dallas - the Nomads and Athletics. They got T. C. U., Baylor and S. M. U. to field teams also. I coached the team and Dr. Hemphill Hosford was one of my players. Two of my football players- Glenn and "Windy" Dunaway - with two theological students lived in a tent north of Dallas Hall, about where Daniel Ave. now is located. They cooked their own meals. There were several theological students on the squad and the sports writers gave us the name of "The Parsons."
